New Year 2023, Mary, Mother of God and World Day of Peace

“Happy New Year to all!” In our Liturgy for January 1st, we have three important and inter-related themes: The New Year 2023; The Solemnity of the Blessed Virgin Mary, the Mother of God and the World Day of Prayer for Peace.

New Year. I hope that your New Year Celebration has been wonderful! Did you celebrate the New Year with a big bang and spectacular fireworks? I remember with fondness the New Year Celebrations I had while studying in Spain, most particularly the countdown when we had to eat 12 pieces of grape while doing the countdown. In the aftermath of the 9/11 Terrorist Attacks, I flew to New York and spent New Year's Eve on Times Square. The experience was unforgettable! We begin the New Year 2023 thanking the Lord for another year as we contemplate in silence the mystery of God's love for each of us. Our Blessed Mother Mary is our model who kept and pondered all things in her heart upon hearing from the shepherds.

Solemnity of the Blessed Virgin Mary, Mother of God. It is fitting that the Church should choose January 1 as the day on which to celebrate the feast of Mary, the Mother of God. The Council of Ephesus in 431 A.D. affirmed that Mary was truly Mother of God because ‘according to the flesh’ she gave birth to Jesus, who was truly God from the first moment of His conception. Twenty years later, in 451 A.D. at the Council of Chalcedon, it was affirmed that the Motherhood of Mary was a truthful dogma and an official doctrine of the Holy Catholic Church. The council based its proclamation on the truth that, ‘the birth of flesh reveals human nature; while the birth from a virgin is a proof of divine power.’

World Day of Prayer for Peace. Many of us enter this New Year with anxiety. There are continuous uncertainties concerning peace. We have the ongoing war in Ukraine, gun violence in the US and there remains the escalating threat of terrorism. There are so many uncertainties in our individual lives. Financial problems, health problems, marital problems and other worries overshadow the lives of many of us. Peace is not just the absence of war and conflict. It indicates the fullness of God's gifts and blessings and the tranquility of the human heart. Saint Augustine has a beautiful definition of peace. According to him, peace means, “serenity of the mind, simplicity of the heart and tranquility of the soul.”

We suffer loss of serenity of mind when we exaggerate our fears, when we worry too much. Somebody once said that 80 percent of the things we worry about never happens and 15 percent of the misfortunes we worry about don't take place as seriously as expected. And because we fret and worry so much, we fail to achieve peace of mind. We lose the simplicity of our heart if we let our emotions run wild. We get angry, we get envious and others. Our negative thoughts get the better part of us. Simplicity of heart also means contentment. We have to simplify our wants and our needs. Tranquility of the soul is lost if we have a life which is spiritually messy. This happens when there is sin in our lives, and we are full of guilt. A Happy and a Blessed New Year to all of us. Through it all, let us remember the words of the Blessed Virgin Mary in Guadalupe, Mexico: “I am here, I'm your mother. Do not fear, I am near!”

GRAND KNIGHT'S MESSAGE

My Brother Knights,

Finally, we are ready to get rid of year 2022 and moving forward to 2023. It is the time of the year where we leave the bad things behind, keep the good things over and dream what 2023 will bring us. It is the time to remember what we have achieved last year and the failures we made and look forward to the promise of a new year, a new beginning.

As a brother Knight, in the new year is we try to remember what we have contributed to our council and community during the past year. How much time did we spend to help the needy, the oppressed and the downtrodden. Let's measure if it is good enough to pass of what is expected of us as a knight or is it enough to pass the qualities of a good Christian. If it is so, then continue the good work as more brothers like you is needed in this world. If not, new year is the time to start being a good knight and a good Christian. Let's start the year by first attending meetings, join in the deliberations and volunteering to head a project. If not volunteer to participate in the projects of the council. Hope to see you there, Brothers.

Last month was a little bit slow down as we did a lot last November. We were supposed to induct our officers, but due to conflict with church schedules, it will be done on our next meeting this January 9, 2023 before our scheduled regular meeting. Notice will be sent by our Worthy Financial Secretary.

We had also our Christmas food collection, sorting, packaging and distribution on the 20th. The most important part was the Joint Christmas Party by the Council and the Assembly. As our Worthy Financial Secretary announced, it was the first time where the attendance by the Assembly is more than the attendance from the Council, but I'm sure that will change next year. Because, we know that beginning the new year you will become more active and show the WFS that this won't happen again. So, to all elected officers of the Council, please see to it that you will be present next meeting for the installation of officers and every meeting thereafter.

We have also participated in the Simbang Gabi Masses by donating $250 and our Honor Guard was present on the second day of a nine days novena, where the mass was celebrated by our Bishop, Oscar Cantú. You would have enjoyed the great soups served after mass.

So Brothers, did you miss any of this. If so, make this new year a reason for you to join the meetings and activities of the Council.

Happy New Year Brothers and may this coming year bring you bountiful graces from the Lord. Stay safe and healthy.

Vivat Jesus,
 Bro. Manuel Mallabo III,
 Grand Knight

PROGRAM DIRECTOR'S MESSAGE

Brother Knights,

First, I would like to take a moment and wish each one of our Brother Knights and family members a Blessed & HAPPY NEW YEAR - 2023. I am praying that our Brother Jesus Christ will look favorable upon us during this New Year and help us to overcome the tribulations we were dealt last year. Please join the Council in our prayers for a very prosperous 2023 for the whole world.

I would also like to remind everyone that we are still celebrating the Church's Christmas Season. The liturgical season of Christmas began with the vigil Masses on Christmas Eve and concludes on the Feast of the Baptism of the Lord; January 8 this year. During this season, we celebrate the birth of Christ into our world and into our hearts, and reflect on the gift of salvation that is born with him ... including the fact that he was born to die for us.

Please continue to follow the articles in this current bulletin for the contributions from our four Faith In Action Program categories Directors: (1) FAITH Director - Brother Khai Phan, (2) FAMILY Director - Brother Guillermo Uribe, (3) COMMUNITY Director - Brother Frank DeSmidt, and (4) LIFE Director - Brother Vinh Nguyen. All programs that our council participates in are positioned in one of these categories for reporting purposes to Supreme. If you have an interest in supporting one of these Programs please contact myself or the Director of that Program category.

Building the Domestic Church Theme for January is - Family Prayer

The Christian family needs to put first things first by cultivating a relationship with God together through prayer. Prayer is essential for families to develop Christian joy, faith, hope and love.

Scripture Reading — Psalm 65:6-14

A prayer of gratitude for God's blessings.

You answer us with awesome deeds of justice, O God our savior,

The hope of all the ends of the earth and of those far off across the sea.

You are robed in power, you set up the mountains by your might.

You still the roaring of the seas, the roaring of their waves, the tumult of the peoples.

Distant peoples stand in awe of your marvels; the places of morning and evening you make resound with joy.

You visit the earth and water it, make it abundantly fertile.

God's stream is filled with water; you supply their grain.

Thus do you prepare it: you drench its plowed furrows, and level its ridges.

With showers you keep it soft, blessing its young sprouts.

You adorn the year with your bounty; your paths drip with fruitful rain.

The meadows of the wilderness also drip; the hills are robed with joy.

The pastures are clothed with flocks, the valleys blanketed with grain; they cheer and sing for joy.

CULTURE OF LIFE NEWS

Shameless

The practice of religion is serious stuff. After all, we're not just living out the string here on earth. We're making a commitment to our eternity—in one place or another. That's no laughing matter. But thank God, one of His great gifts is the ability to laugh at ourselves as we muddle on our way. Without it, we all would have crashed and burned long ago.

John R. Powers' 1973 novel, The Last Catholic in America, helped us to heartily laugh at ourselves. Eddie Ryan grew up in mythical St. Bastion's parish on Chicago's South Side in the 1950-60s. In the day, Catholics identified themselves not by their towns but by their parishes. "Where you from? . . . I'm from St. (Fill-In-The-Name)," was standard talk. In funny, sad, and poignant ways, Eddie brings back those days. As Eddie remembers it, pain and guilt were big parts of the Catholic experience. In one hilarious chapter, a young Eddie makes up stuff in Confession so he'd have something to say. Catholic boomers can relate.

Around the time of Powers' book, Catholics were hearing more and more the message: "you're too guilty about everything. Relax, have some fun." There was even a rock song about how "Catholic girls start much too late." As the sexual revolution took hold, the focus of many Catholics noticeably changed. It was no longer on sin. It was on personal fulfillment and gratification—on "me" and "my thing." Catholics stopped making regular Saturday visits to the Confessional. The numbers are still way down. That's not because we've learned to live sinless lives. It's because, in big and small ways, we no longer see our conduct as sinful.

The unwillingness to objectively define our conduct is evident in how the culture seeks to de-stigmatize legal abortion. Recently, several religious leaders in Texas gathered to bless an abortion clinic and its staff and patients. "Hallelujah!"—God be praised—flowed from their mouths. Sure doesn't seem like the right word for a place that kills for money. A well-known actress is planning to star as a late-term abortion activist. A writer in Minnesota says that "only religious zealots" accept the pro-life view. At a Catholic college, a college Democrats club held a "sex week" slamming Church teachings on abortion; participants were encouraged to hold signs saying "shameless." The goal of all is to remove from our hearts the stigma of abortion.

This past October our parish displayed on the front lawn 3-4,000 white crosses, signifying the number of unborn babies killed by abortion each day in our country. This year marked the 20th anniversary of the display. Generally speaking, it is well received. But not unanimously so. The major complaint is that it casts shame on women who have experienced an abortion. It's a serious complaint. But it loses sight of another of God's great gifts: regret. And it loses sight of His even greater gift: conscience.

God has endowed each of us with a conscience. Deep within our hearts, God has planted His law, the universal moral law governing the natural order of all things and our relationships with others. He gives it to all people, regardless of faith. For people of faith, it is engrained through the Scriptures. Our conscience is where that moral law resides. It is where we make moral judgments about concrete things that we plan to do or have already done. If we have chosen virtuously, our conscience will tell us. If we have chosen sinfully, our conscience will tell that, too. It tells us so through the blessing of regret, guilt, and shame.

Blessing? To understand, imagine a world in which we do not feel guilt or shame over our actions. What if we could lie to each other without feeling bad? What if we could cheat on our neighbors, or our workmates, or our spouses, without any regret? What if we could kill others at any time, for any reason or no reason at all, without remorse? In a world without guilt or shame, we would quickly become human predators. It not only would be ugly, it would be downright scary. For predators need their prey, and because there is always someone stronger, everyone becomes prey. Our consciences help guard against it.

Conscience isn't indestructible, and the culture of death knows it. That's why with increasing frequency the culture calls women to celebrate their abortions and escape the stigma that, for millennia, has come with it. The culture of death's strategy is to advance abortion by killing consciences. The thought is that if women and men can be conditioned to feel no remorse about killing an innocent unborn baby, they will more readily agree to it. But the problem for them will be that consciences don't die easily, for conscience deals with the unchangeable law of God, not the fleeting laws of man. So women and men get caught in a conflict. They hear the voice of God in their hearts and the clamor of a culture that puts abortionists' profits and a politicians' power ahead of human decency. What they don't hear is us.

We are called to proclaim the truth about the evil of abortion, not because it shames others, but because it can help them find a way out. If seeing a bunch of crosses on a lawn makes people think twice about our national tragedy, if it makes them steer a different course, then that's a good thing. A very good thing. Proclaiming the truth can also help those who have made the wrong decision get back on track. This is where regret, remorse, guilt, and yes, shame, can be such huge blessings. They can motivate us to seek God's forgiveness. So we are also called to proclaim that there is light for those who have known abortion's darkness, hope for those held in its cruel clutches of despair. If we fail to invite those hurting to know God's forgiveness, then shame on us, because forgiveness may be His greatest gift of all.

It is why He sent His Son. He came not to shame but to save. He came not as a man but as a baby and before that as an unborn. He came through a virgin who embraced God's plan and a husband who trusted in it. Their lives were not without pain. But they knew no shame.

Claiming The Career You Want, Today!

Frustrated with Your Current Occupation?

If you're frustrated with your current situation, you may be wondering if a career change would be in your best interest. Many financial advisors first worked in a different profession. They came from sales, banking, marketing, service, management, teaching, and a myriad of other fields. Some of the reasons for making a career switch include:

- More income potential
- Schedule flexibility
- More independence
- Greater satisfaction in doing something that makes a "real" impact on others

Many people procrastinate when it comes to getting information on financial issues – sometimes hesitating to save enough money or protecting their loved ones with adequate insurance. Helping clients do what is in their best interest can be very rewarding for both parties.

Should you consider an opportunity in the financial industry? If you care about people, like the opportunity to continually learn, and are motivated to build your own future, this profession may be for you. Why not find out? Ask for our introductory career information, review our training program and learn about our dynamic office. Then you can decide if you should investigate further.

Send an email expressing an interest in our introductory information. You may have a lot to gain.
