Sealed with the Gifts of the Holy Spirit

It took us 40 days of Lent to prepare for the Paschal Triduum and it takes us 50 days to celebrate Easter culminating with the celebration of the Coming of the Holy Spirit in Pentecost on the 50th day of Easter. It is usually during the Easter Season that we focus on the Sacraments of Initiation. On Sundays we have Sprinkling of Holy Water and Renewal of Baptismal Promises to remind us of our Baptism. It is also the time for First Communion and Confirmation. Here at Saint Elizabeth, we are fortunate to have our Bishop Oscar Cantú conferring the Sacrament of Confirmation to 58 of our Youth the first weekend of May.

The Sacrament of Confirmation is considered a sacrament of initiation. It has something to do with our being introduced into the life of God and of the Church. The first initiation was Baptism, when we were adopted by God and welcomed into the family of the Church. Baptism sets us on the path to eternal life, and got things started. Confirmation intensifies that beginning and blesses us with the gifts of the Holy Spirit. Therefore, we might call it "stage two" of our becoming God's children.

The local Bishop is the Ordinary Minister of the Sacrament of Confirmation. At times, the Bishop delegates one of his Vicars or the Pastors to confer the sacrament. The ritual consists of the laying on of hands, the anointing on the forehead with sacred chrism, and the words, "Be sealed with the gifts of the Holy Spirit." Like the other sacraments, it is a simple action, using an appropriate object (the oil of Chrism and the laying on of hands), accompanied by simple words. And the ritual is guaranteed its significant meaning by the presence of our God infusing us with the gifts of the Holy Spirit. The laying on of hands and the anointing with oil are not actions that immediately resonate with us modern folk. In ancient cultures, a person in authority placed his hands on another's head in a gesture of both setting that person aside for a specific task and of conferring the power of an office. In Confirmation, the Bishop lays his hands on the head of the person to be confirmed as a sign of selection and of giving the Holy Spirit.

Sacred chrism is olive oil (the same oil that is used for cooking) with a sweet perfume added (usually balsam) to give it an aromatic quality. The scent is intended to involve another sense: smell. Bishop Cantu consecrated the Oil of Chrism at the Chrism Mass, celebrated here in the Diocese of San Jose on Tuesday evening before the Holy Week. At that same Mass, the bishop also blessed the Oil of Catechumens, used in Baptisms, and the Oil of the Sick used in the Anointing of the Sick. Anointing with oil is another sign of setting someone aside for a specific task as well as a sign of strength.

Giving the Holy Spirit includes filling the individual with the seven gifts of the Spirit. These are: wisdom, understanding, counsel, knowledge, fortitude, piety, and fear of the Lord. Let's take a quick look at each.

- Wisdom is the ability to properly value our faith. To put life in proper perspective.
- Understanding helps us realize the meaning of what we believe - at least to some significant degree.

- Counsel helps us act in the best way possible.
- Fortitude gives us the strength to do what we know we ought to do.
- Knowledge helps us see life as God sees it.
- Piety helps us desire to worship and serve God.
- Fear of the Lord helps us want to serve God well out of a sense of respect.

These are the gifts that God gives through His Church to those being confirmed to strengthen them for the task of being witnesses of faith to the world. So, Confirmation involves a commissioning, a sending, and a strengthening; all necessary for the person to take their proper place in the faith community. "Be sealed," the bishop says, "with the gifts of the Holy Spirit."

Sealed with the gift of the Holy Spirit, and sent just like the first followers of Jesus, we go forth into the world as true witnesses of Jesus, having the courage to live our faith and to bring the hope and love of Christianity to a world that so desperately needs this message and this experience. Having completed our initiation into the Christian life through this great sacrament of Confirmation, may we live our life even more fully as a disciple of Christ in every aspect of our life.

 Chaplain

GRAND KNIGHT'S MESSAGE

My Brother Knights,

I would like to take this opportunity, although late, to greet each and every one of you, A Happy Easter. Hope you enjoyed your festivities with families and friends and hope you did not forget what really Easter meant to us.

Hope during the Easter time, you were able to analyze whether you have been a good or not so good Christian, and if the latter, what can you do to correct it.

I hope also that you have tried to analyze too, your duty as a member of the Knights of Columbus. It's not too late brothers to embrace again your interest in being active to our Organization as in it. You have all the opportunities to get back to the Lord as well as all opportunities to help your fellowmen through the various activities of the Knights of Columbus, aside from having the opportunity to help your family through the various insurance programs at lesser value than that offered in the market. Besides, the organization needs your help to bring its services to the people. It needs your talent to pursue its goals. And it needs your expertise, by being an officer or leader of the Council. If you have not realize this opportunities, it's time to do so by attending the regular meetings of the Council and Volunteer to lead on the various projects and activities of the Council. If you do not have any activity in mind this post lent season, come join us and we would be very happy to see you back in our Council Chambers.

We are about to get a Star Council Award and we are only needing one new member and one good opportunity for you to help the Council is recruit a friend and you have done a big job for our Council. (Sorry we miscalculated the needed new members for a star council award)

So brothers, please include our Council in your process of Christian Renewal. Come back, join our meetings and get involved in its various projects and activities.

See you next meeting.

Fraternally,,
Bro. Manuel Mallabo III,
Grand Knight

PLEASE PRAY FOR:

Brother Bill Poehlman
Brother Skip Yenchik
Brother Timothy Crew
Brother Bill and wife Sally Paulsen
Rev. Paul Weisbeck
Brother Greg Dessel
Brother Ernesto Bautista
And all those listed in the Church Bulletin Prayer List.

PROGRAM DIRECTOR'S MESSAGE

Brother Knights,

Just a reminder that we are still celebrating the Easter season which began on Easter Sunday and will last until Pentecost Sunday May 28. During this 50 day celebration we have celebrated the Lord's resurrection from the dead, heard of his visiting the disciples on several occasions and this will finally conclude in his Ascension to the Father in heaven and his sending down of the Holy Spirit upon his people of the Church. Remember our accomplishments so far and let us continue our quest in helping those who are less fortunate than us and who need our assistance. Remember, - CHARITY - is the first basic principle of our Order.

Our four Faith In Action Program Directors: (1) FAITH Director - Brother Khai Phan, (2) FAMILY Director - Brother Guillermo Uribe, (3) COMMUNITY Director - Brother Frank DeSmidt, and (4) LIFE Director - Brother Vinh Nguyen have submitted the latest information in their area of expertise which can be found in the current bulletin. All programs that our council participates in are positioned in one of these categories for reporting purposes to Supreme. If you have an interest in supporting one of these Programs please contact myself or the Director of that Program category.

Building the Domestic Church Theme for May is - HOPE

Because love is filled with hope when it is communicated, our family wants to promote hope and the life-giving spirit that flows from it to our families.

Scripture Reading — 139:13-18 A prayer to the all-knowing and ever-present God.

You formed my inmost being; you knit me in my mother's womb.

I praise you, because I am wonderfully made; wonderful are your works! My very self you know.

My bones are not hidden from you, When I was being made in secret, fashioned in the depths of the earth.

Your eyes saw me unformed; in your book all are written down; my days were shaped, before one came to be.

How precious to me are your designs, O God; how vast the sum of them!

Were I to count them, they would outnumber the sands; when I complete them, still you are with me.

CULTURE OF LIFE NEWS

Die-Hards

Most folks thought it would happen sometime between when pigs could fly and hell froze over. Since 1908, the Chicago Cubs had always found a way to lose. Many years, they were out of contention by early June. In a few others, they got this close. In 1945, they even made it to the World Series, but lost to the Tigers. They were the Lovable Losers, a nickname that absolutely fit. The Cubs were the butt of more jokes than any team, anywhere.

While most folks laughed, doubted, or did both, die-hard Cub fans never gave up. They believed it would happen; they refused to let go of the dream. So when the Cubs recorded that third out in game seven of last year's Series, the die-hards began to celebrate as never before. But fittingly, they also took the time to remember. They remembered the players, managers, and coaches who for years had played so hard to win, only to lose. Even more, they remembered their fellow die-hards from the past—parents and grandparents, brothers and sisters, friends and neighbors—people who didn't get to see that final out. Those scenes of Cub fans visiting the graves of their loved ones were among the most poignant in American sports.

How readily we forget the dead. In our face-paced world, how quickly we stop thinking about those who came and went before us. We fail to remember their accomplishments, the little and big things they did that make our lives so much easier. Centuries ago, people crossed vast oceans to reach an unknown land, and did so on nothing more than a hope and a dream that they would find something better. Some never made it off the boats. Those who did began to dot the shorelines, and then moved further in. They explored, and they put down roots where things looked promising. Settlement became colonies, and colonies became states. Over the years, those forgotten people blazed new trails, built highways, founded churches, established schools, constructed hospitals, and organized businesses of all kinds—the very things we now so take for granted. They did it on a dream, a dream that they could provide a good life for themselves, their families, and for generations they'd never meet.

Those dreams became reality because our forbearers had the freedom to make them happen. Freedom didn't come easy. It never does. The original signers of our Declaration of Independence knew that they were signing away their lives. If their efforts failed, they would be convicted of treason and hung by the necks until they were dead. But for them, the birth of a free country was worth life itself. "O beautiful for heroes proved in liberating strife, who more than self their country loved, and mercy more than life!"

Throughout our country's history, others have been called to make the ultimate sacrifice. Freedom must be defended—or the dream dies. So ordinary citizens left their homes, their families, and all they held dear. Many did it out of a true sense of patriotism. Many others did it because they would not shirk from the call. They fought for their country; they fought for the freedom and safety of the buddies on either side of them. Many died, and they died hard. They died before they ever got off boats, or hit beaches, or were able to raise weapons in self-defense. They died in flames, or in water, or in pieces. They died on hills and roadways, or in deserts, forests, and jungles. They died in prison camps. They all died hard, really hard.

We hold that they died in defense of freedom that the dream could remain a reality. And for this surely did. But sadly, we are losing sight of what freedom means. In the past, it has always meant the ability to do what is objectively good in pursuit of what is objectively good. For freedom to be freedom, it must be grounded in a morality recognizing that we are not self-created. We came from God and have responsibilities to each other. But today, some profess that freedom means whatever we want it to mean in the moment, that we can do whatever we want no matter how badly it hurts others. And do it for profit.

The case in point, of course, is Planned Parenthood, which annually receives over one-half billion dollars in taxpayer funding. That funding is being threatened, and PP and its defenders are howling. They argue that PP provides badly needed health care to women, things like mammograms and cancer screenings. They claim that PP empowers women. But all that talk hides the real reason: abortion. There's plenty of proof. The Trump administration offered to increase funding to Planned Parenthood if it would stop performing abortions. It refused. Mammograms? Planned Parenthood doesn't do them. As for cancer screening, its latest report shows that they are down 66%; breast exams are down 63.5%. But abortions are up 13%. It's all about abortion because it's all about money: over 328,000 annually at an average of $450 each—about $14.7 million. Yet we continue the funding.

Our country was founded on the truths that all human life is sacred and all humans have an inalienable right to live in freedom. Our many dead were killed in defense of those truths. But for the last 44 years, our official government policy is that we have "freedom" to kill the unborn. So, the question is this: would our fallen heroes have allowed themselves to be so brutally stripped of life so that Planned Parenthood can be "free" to so brutally rip apart unborn babies for profit? Freedom is something we die for. Do we think they died for that? Would you? We cannot insult our fallen dead any worse than we are doing right now.

Enter the die-hards. Actually, they've been around for a long time. They continue to believe in the dream. They don't get government funding, but it doesn't matter to them. They proclaim the message of life, and take the abuse that goes along with it. When they can do nothing more than silently witness to the tragedy, they do. And some lay down their lives. They do it because they believe in what Americans have professed to be: people of life. Each of us, born or unborn, has a right to be here. Having lived the reality, they seek it for the unborn of this and all generations. Because for the unborn, tomorrow remains but a dream.

FRATERNAL INSURANCE AGENT'S CORNER

Spring is here, at least by the calendar, and it will soon be summer. Perhaps you're planning your summer vacation. Maybe you've not only planned it, but you've already booked your hotel, VRBO®, or Airbnb®. Maybe you've gone so far as to purchase plane tickets or maybe your vacation spot will be within driving distance. You're already thinking of the clothes you'll have to pack and those new pieces that you'll have to buy. You've got a little extra cash saved to buy some special souvenirs. You are researching the area and finding the interesting historical sites to visit. Seeing where the fun spots are...checking out the local places to dine. How do you want to plan your week away?

I'll admit it, I enjoy doing that research, especially when I'm driving. I like looking at maps and seeing what sights there are to see, the historical venues, the local restaurants. I like looking online (and maybe even getting some old fashioned travel brochures) to check out my travel destination. If I'm driving I like to pick a route. Not necessarily the fastest on my GPS though. The fastest route often bypasses the interesting sites. (Think historical Route 66 and all the interesting places along that road!) When I'm all done and I've got everything laid out, I have a certain sense of accomplishment. I know I'm going to have a good time because I've looked at many options and picked the ones that mean the most to me.

I think of working with you, my brother Knights, in much the same way. When I sit down with you and your spouse we start with a financial needs analysis. We "drop a pin" on your map to show where you are now. We enter a destination of where you want to go. What do you want to see for your family if the unforeseen happens? That might be a situation where one of our products, life insurance, long-term care insurance, disability income insurance, or a retirement annuity, may be needed. Think of that product as the vehicle that gets you or your family farther along to a better place on your financial road map. Much like a vacation, we'll make stops along the way, take a look "under the hood," and make sure the strategy is still "running on all cylinders." There are many options to discuss, even within the different lines of products available, to help you get to where you want to go.

Do you have a strategy? May I have the privilege of helping you and your family develop one or fine tune the one you have? I'll be calling soon to set up a time to get together to discuss your financial road map.

MEMBERSHIP NOTES

My Brothers,

We only need one more new member to reach out quota of 6 for the Columbian Year. So, say to someone you think would make a good Knight, "have you ever been asked to join the Knights of Columbus?" Then you can use the flyer, "Why You Should Become A Knight", in the church vestibule to help a member join the Knights. My information is on it to contact me or he can scan the bar code for more information and/or join on line. Once he joins as a Online Member he can take the Exemplification of Charity, Unity and Fraternity and become a full member of the Knights of Columbus and our Council #8747.

*Lift the financial burden from your loved ones during the time of grief.
Gather family support as they help you through making difficult decisions.
Ensure all personal records are in order.*

Peace of mind knowing that you receive the funeral your life deserves and protect your family from additional stress.
