Rest and Leisure

The summer season has officially started. Students are now on summer break from school and many have made their summer travel plans. As we carry out our duties and generously go about our professional work, it is refreshing to know that we have opportunities this summer to take some break. Our life is an immensely beneficial gift from God. With the stress of the COVID-19 pandemic that weighed on us for over two years, it's more important than ever to advocate for mental health resources and daily routines that promote physical, mental, emotional and spiritual well-being. Even if the pandemic is over, many are still stressed. Reports have indicated that about 33 percent of people report feeling extreme stress, and up to 73 percent report that stress impacts their mental health.

Rest is vital for better mental health, increased concentration and memory, a healthier immune system, reduced stress, improved mood and even a better metabolism. So many people are caught in the grind of work, family responsibilities and ongoing stress. Often, we only allow ourselves to truly rest on holidays or vacation. However, it's so important to prioritize adequate rest and quality sleep in our everyday life. Rest and sleep are two different things, but both are equally important to our mental, emotional and physical health. Plus, prioritizing rest can actually improve the quality of sleep.

Rest can be difficult to define because it can look different for everyone. Rest is any behavior aimed at increasing physical or mental well-being. It can be active, such as going for a walk outside, or passive, such as taking 10 minutes to sit down and breathe deeply. Regardless of how we choose to rest, these daily behaviors can help us recover and recharge from physical and mental effort. That's why better rest is linked to better physical and mental health. We have to live the years that God wants and go on to complete the task that He has entrusted to us. We have to learn to rest close to God.

In the Gospel, Jesus says to his disciples, "Come away by yourselves for a while, and rest a little" (Mark 6:30). On another occasion, Jesus says, "Come to me, all you who labor and find life burdensome, and I will give you rest" (Mt. 11:28). We make our burden lighter when we lift them up to God. Tiredness teaches us to be humble and to live charity better. For this reason we need to learn to rest. In our free time, we need to recuperate our energies in order to serve better and maintain our good health.

We need to remember that the use of leisure is an activity we must sanctify. Rest means recuperation – to gain strength, to form ideals and make plans, it means a change of occupation so that we can come back later to our daily job with a renewed energy. Leisure and vacation time should facilitate opportunities to also encounter Christ. Far from letting ourselves be influenced by what is considered fashionable, we need to be attentive and careful in choosing a suitable place for our holidays; how best to plan a journey; how most profitably to arrange a weekend activity away from work. We need to be good stewards of our life and our time if we desire to become good disciples of the Lord. We also check what Church we can go for our Sunday worship when we are away from home.

May we never forget Stewardship as a Way of Life as we continue to financially support our Church while we go on a summer break. Our Church even during the summer season incurs the same expenses in terms of salaries of employees, city services, repairs and maintenance. The balancing of the yearly budget of our Church is sustained by our generosity. May the Lord who can never be outdone in love and generosity reward us a hundredfold. Have a safe and restful summer.

GRAND KNIGHT'S MESSAGE

Dear Brother Knights,

Thanks God the Pandemic is of the past and hope everybody is in their best of health and strong to face this coming Columbian Year.

Last June 3 and 4, the Council handed certificates to recognize our Altar Servers.

On June 11, we had the Red Cross Blood Drive.

Sorry for the cancellation of the Prayer Card Hand Out for Father's Day as well as Recruitment Drive as we did not get enough member volunteers. That's why we request everybody to help and join us in our projects.

On June 19, we had the Council Pot Luck and Recognition Day and as usual only few members attended but we enjoyed the food and bonding.

On the 24th, we hosted the San Jose Chapter Meeting.

We did end this Columbian year with a bang although with some setbacks but we tried to finish it strong.

As to the status of our Council, I think we will be able to get their Star Council Award. We were able to fulfill our quota for the Fr. McGivney Award. Thanks for our Membership Director. We were able to meet the requirements for the Founder's Award. Thanks for your participation form the two scheduled Fraternal Benefit Seminars. And lastly, hope to get the Columbian Award if they will credit our projects to fulfill the 16 points Faith in Action Programs. Let's hope and pray that we get the Star Council Award this year.

As to the coming Columbian Year, thank you again for the trust and confidence you have given me and I will try to do all my best, to serve the Council as well as our community, to the best of my ability. And I request also for you members to do the same. We work together, help each other, join the projects of our Council and attend meetings and scheduled family get together and let's hope we can get a Star Council award this coming Columbian Year.

Thank you so much and see you next meeting.

Fraternally,
 Bro. Manuel Mallabo III,
 Grand Knight

PROGRAM DIRECTOR’S MESSAGE

Brother Knights,

I would like to take this opportunity to congratulate our newly elected officers for the Columbian Year 2023-2024, see the Officers assignment section in this bulletin for the complete list of new Officers names. I will continue helping with the Service Program Director positions until a decision is made by our Grand Knight as to what direction he wants to go. We will need to assign a few new Directors as some of our current ones have indicated work issues interference in completing their leadership. I would also like to thank each of our Brothers that helped during this past Columbian year and ask each to remember his accomplishments so that we can continue our quest in helping those who are less fortunate than us and who needs our assistance. Remember, Charity is the first basic principle of our Order.

Our four Faith In Action Program Directors currently are: (1) FAITH Director - Brother Khai Phan, (2) FAMILY Director - Brother Guillermo Uribe, (3) COMMUNITY Director - Brother Frank DeSmidt, and (4) LIFE Director, Brother Vinh Nguyen - Each of these Brothers submit the latest information in their area of expertise which can be found in the current bulletin. All Programs that our council participates in are positioned in one of these categories for reporting purposes to Supreme. If you have an interest in supporting any of our Programs please contact myself or the Director of that Program category.

Building the Domestic Church Theme for July is - WITNESSING TO THE FAITH

Because families play an indispensable role in the new evangelization, we want to share our faith with other families and those who are far away from God.

Scripture Reading -Psalm 148:1-6, 11-13

A song of praise to the Lord.

Praise him, all you his angels; give praise, all you his hosts.

Praise him, sun and moon; praise him, all shining stars.

Praise him, highest heavens, you waters above the heavens.

Let them all praise the LORD’s name; for he commanded and they were created,

Praise the LORD from the heavens; praise him in the heights.

Assigned them their station forever, set an order that will never change.

Kings of the earth and all peoples, princes and all who govern on earth;

Young men and women too, old and young alike.

Let them all praise the LORD’s name, for his name alone is exalted,

His majesty above earth and heaven.

CULTURE OF LIFE NEWS

“Male and Female He Created Them”

by Theresa Notare

“God created man in his own image. . . . male and female he created them. And God blessed them, saying: “Be fruitful and multiply; fill the earth and subdue it.” (Gn 1:27 & 28)

The above lines from Genesis have always been hallowed by Jews and Christians, providing countless generations with a faith-based understanding of humanity. The Lord God is our source of being. Both men and women are made in his image and therefore of inestimable dignity, equality, and worth.

“The Lord God said: “It is not good for man to be alone. I will make a suitable partner for him.” (Gn 2:18)

“Then the Lord God cast a deep sleep upon the man, and while he was fast asleep, he took one of his ribs, and closed up its place with flesh. And the Lord God then built up into a woman the rib that he had taken from the man. When he brought her to the man, the man said:

“At last, this one is bone of my bones, and flesh of my flesh. ...That is why a man leaves his father and mother and clings to his wife, and the two of them become one body.” (Gn 2:21-24)

Expanding on the above teaching, the Holy Father notes “knowledge of humanity passes through masculinity and femininity.” In other words, we can’t understand ourselves individually as men or women if we don’t have each other. When the author of Genesis says that “the Lord God then built up into a woman the rib that he had taken from the man,” and “brought her to the man,” he revealed God’s critical intention--man was to have a partner like himself in dignity but also different from him in every way--especially on a physical level. And the author tells us that the man himself recognized this as a good exclaiming “at last, this is bone of my bone and flesh of my flesh!”

This sacred story not only supplies a clear anthropology, but it serves as the foundational teaching on the marriage relationship as willed by God. This relationship between a man and a woman is a tremendous blessing, as are the children God entrusts to them. Indeed, throughout scripture the marital relationship is so sacred that the prophets often use it as an analogy to explain God’s relationship with His people.

In March, Reform Jewish leaders approved a resolution allowing rabbis to preside at homosexual “commitment ceremonies.” Rabbi Charles Kroloff, said that the resolution is indicative of the group’s belief that “gay and lesbian Jews, and the committed relationships they form with their partners, deserve the recognition and respect due to people created in the image of God.” One has to wonder how the belief that all human beings, made in God’s image, and deserving of respect and recognition, has become confused with God’s design for marriage? Perhaps the answer lies in two areas--unconditional acceptance of historical critical methods of biblical study and an uncritical melding together of a permissive American culture with an historically more careful religious tradition.

The 20th century has seen the refinement of scholarly methods for studying the bible. These efforts have been to peel away the historical buildup (that which was created by people) to get at the divinely inspired message. This has helped us to better understand the fullness of God’s revelation. However, too often scholars forget that the stories of the bible are not mere stories, but vehicles through which timeless truths are communicated by God to his people.

In order to avoid critical errors, anyone engaged in such academic study must be a person of prayer, a person very much in close communion with or part of, the faith community. A common error is reliance on reason alone and allowing cultural bias to overshadow scripture’s meaning. In regard to the Reform Jewish Rabbis’ resolution, The Washington Post notes that “The Torah calls homosexuality an abomination . . . But the Reform movement has always believed in adapting Judaism to the realities of modern America” (March 30, 2000). If one adapts scripture to the realities of modern America without any critique of our culture, one risks enshrining specific cultural ideas and not seeing God’s will.

Faith communities are in the midst of strife trying to define or redefine marriage. And civil society wrestles as well. Vermont’s Supreme Court recently ruled that same-sex partners must be granted the same rights as heterosexual married couples and now is trying to figure out “how to define” marriage. Hawaii, on the other hand, has defined it as a union of a man and a woman. It is excruciatingly clear that we are becoming a confused people. We have, it seems, dissected scripture to the point of human manipulation. We substitute cultural rallying cries--“gay rights,” “choice,” “contraceptive sex,”--with God’s teachings to respect every human being, to protect innocent human lives, to be chaste and open to children in marriage.

We need to read scripture with minds and hearts open so that we might truly know what God is saying to us. Homosexual men and women can never have a marriage in the biblical sense, but they are our brothers and sisters who deserve respect as children of God, and human rights accorded on the basis of our humanity. But God’s teaching about marriage is clear: “male and female He made them” blessing them to be “fruitful and multiply.” God’s will for marriage is the totality of humanity--male and female, united in him and open to life.

Stay Safe and Take Care

FRATERNAL INSURANCE AGENT’S CORNER

I always think of July as being the midpoint of the summer. I hope your summer is going well and you’re getting to enjoy it. Summer vacations, kids out of school, lots of outdoor sports, tending flowers and vegetable gardens. Seems like there is so much more to keep up with than during the winter. Maybe that’s what makes it seem like summer goes so fast and winter drags on. Summer will be gone before you know it!

For this month a couple of thoughts come to mind. A case that came up recently had to do with the ownership of life insurance policies. If you have policies on dependent children, it’s wise to have a contingent owner listed. A parent is most often the owner of the child’s policy, but often there is no provision made on the policy should that parent pass away. Having a contingent owner listed in this situation makes for a smooth transition of ownership. That’s one of the many things I can help with when I review policies for you.

Fraternal benefits come with being a member of the Order. One of these fraternal benefits is known as the Spouse’s Right to Apply. This benefit is spelled out in each of our insurance contracts and provides a widow with the right to apply for any of our products for up to one year after her husband’s death so long as he was an insured member at the time of his death. It’s another good reason to become an insured member with the Order. It gives that right to your spouse. One of the advantages of meeting with me is to review just these kinds of situations. I hope to put your mind at ease.

There are many more fraternal benefits. When I meet with a member and his spouse, I try to make sure I explain all of them that are pertinent. This is all in addition to our financial needs analysis tool that can help determine needs. I think this analysis and the insurance products we offer are two of the most worthwhile benefits the Order provides. This is a robust and cutting edge platform that is used throughout the life insurance industry. We used to use a much simpler form called the Family Service Record to help keep track of important household information if the need ever presented itself. Now one of the benefits I provide to you and your family is to go through this financial needs analysis and help determine where you are now and where you want to go. Your financial health is critical to your family's future security. We'll take a look at your dreams, goals and aspirations and help make sure you're on track to make them become a reality. As always, there is never any requirement to purchase any product, but a baseline or periodic check-up is a wise idea.

I appreciate the trust you've placed in me and the opportunity to serve you! Enjoy the summer! Vivat Jesus!

MEMBERSHIP NOTES

My Brothers,

We did it. YEA! We reached our quota of 6 new members for the Columbian Year. Which makes us eligible for the honor of being a Star Council. June 17 & 18 we were supposed to hand out Father's Day Prayer Cards, but, we did not have enough coverage for the masses.

Don't stop recruiting new members now. All you have to do is say to someone you think would make a good Knight, "have your ever been asked to join the Knights of Columbus?" Then you can use the flyer, "Why You Should Become A Knight", in the church vestibule to help a member join the Knights. My information is on it to contact me or he can scan the bar code for more information and/or join on line. Once he joins as a On-line Member he can take the Exemplification of Charity, Unity and Fraternity and become an full member of the Knights of Columbus and our Council #8747.
