Through the intercession of Our Lady of Guadalupe, let us ask the Lord to guide us and to accompany us, to give us renewed strength and determination in facing the challenges ahead as we proclaim and live the Gospel.

Many of you might have already heard of the Diocese of San Jose Synod 2023: One Holy, Catholic and Apostolic. As part of the preparatory phase of the Synod, many Parishes in the Diocese of San Jose have had their Parish Consultations with Parish Leaders representing the different ethnic groups, ministry groups and movements. In the Diocese, thirty-seven of our Parishes and twenty-six our Catholic Schools have completed their consultation sessions and only handful have yet to submit their summary worksheet. Nine other Parishes have scheduled their consultations within the next week or two. I am very happy to report to you that we at Saint Elizabeth have sent to the Diocese the results of our Parish Consultation.

Everyone in the Parish will also have the opportunity to participate in the Synod Survey – Consultation of the Faithful. Our Bishop, the Most Reverend Oscar Cantú has requested all Parishioners to complete this survey so that the Diocese will learn about the pastoral needs of the Faithful throughout the Diocese and discern pastoral priorities for our Diocese for the coming years.

This is now your chance to participate in the online consultation and be heard. Our Bishop wants to hear from all Catholics in Santa Clara County, including those no longer practicing their faith. The purpose of the survey is to gain a greater understanding of the pastoral needs of the Catholic community in Santa Clara County and discern pastoral priorities for our diocese for the coming years.

The online survey is available in English, Spanish or Vietnamese and will remain open through Thanksgiving. It will take ten to fifteen minutes to complete the survey, and responses will be anonymous. The input will be integrated into the information to be considered by the Diocesan Synod General Assembly, when recommending priorities for our diocese's new Pastoral Plan on how our diocese will serve God's People in the coming years. A total of confirmed 130 Delegates will attend the General Assembly on January 27 to 29, 2023 at Santa Clara University. You may watch the invitation of our Bishop in these videos inviting everyone to complete the Survey:

Spanish: <https://vimeo.com/762440126/75264897ab>

English: <https://vimeo.com/762439473/e6f447d2fa>

There is a QR code that makes it easier for everyone to answer the Survey. You may also go to our website and click on the QR code.

GRAND KNIGHT'S MESSAGE

My Brother Knights,

Hope everybody is in good health as we enter the period of flu season.

On October 3, we had our regular business meeting. Only few attended in person as well as the virtual one. I just hope that you did not forget our regular business meeting and if so, please check our newsletter for the schedules. If not please send us a note why you don't want to attend the meeting so we can find a way to solve this problem.

As expected, our October calendar was busy. We have scheduled four days of PWID, the first weekend at the church and the second at Ocean Market. The project was a success but sad to say that despite several emails from our Worthy Financial Secretary, few members answered the call. Hope next time please spend a little bit of your time to participate. And for those who participated, thank you for it would not have been a success.

The 13th of October was an Evening With Mary event participated in by our Honor Guards. It was celebrated by a procession around the church and a mass celebrated by our Bishop Oscar Cantù.

Our council did its share to host the San Jose Chapter Meeting on the 22nd of October. It was at that moment where we complained of the lack of a assigned District Deputy to our Council. The President of the San Jose Chapter, who is tasked to do so, assigned District Deputy, Ruben Esguerra to be our district deputy. Now we can schedule our installation of officers and we can hear news from the Supreme and other happenings from among the councils. Thank you to District Deputy, Ruben Esguerra for adding us to his already assigned councils.

This coming November calendar will be another busy month for us.

On November 2, the Knight Sounds will be at the Calvary Cemetery. Also, that day is the encore screening of the: "Mother Teresa: No Greater Love". Visit: fathomevents.com for participating theaters and ticket information. It will only be a one day event.

On November 7 @ 6:30 pm, there will be a Memorial Mass in church (Presider, Fr. Andy Ligot), in honor of our deceased brothers, please come to remember our deceased brothers and wives. It will be followed by our regular meeting. The Memorial Mass will also be live on YouTube, but the Business meeting will be in person only.

We will be holding the: "Keep Christ in Christmas" sales of Christmas Cards in all masses on Nov. 12, 13, 19 and 20. Please find time to help.

Brothers, as you can see the schedules, it is not really boring to attend the activities of our Council, as a matter of fact, our Pastor, Fr. Andy Ligot has praised the assistance the Knights of Columbus is giving to the parish.

There's another activity where we will be needed again, that is the Ministry Fair, where we will join the other ministry of the church to show who we are and why they should join our ministry, the Knights of Columbus. We will be needing brothers to be at our assigned table to answer questions inquiring about our organization. The fair will be on November 12 and 13 after all the masses.

So, Brothers, please find time to attend to these Activities. Christian faith is not just to attend the mass. It also includes service to our community and evangelization (preaching the word of God to our fellowmen). You can satisfy all of these through our activities.

Please attend our Memorial Mass and Meeting on November 7. We will be happy to see you there.

Please stay safe and healthy always.

Vivat Jesus,

Bro. Manuel Mallabo III, Grand Knight

PLEASE PRAY FOR:

Brother Guillermo Uribe

Brother Skip Yenchik

Brother Timothy Crews

Brother Bill and wife Sally Paulsen

Rev. Paul Weisbeck

Brother Greg Dessel

Brother Ernesto Bautista

Brother Bill Poehlman

And all those listed in the Church Bulletin Prayer List.

PROGRAM DIRECTOR'S MESSAGE

Brother Knights,

California Proposition 1 is misleading, dangerous, and unnecessary. It's also the first time ever that voters are being asked to vote for unrestricted late term abortion, ending any real chance for California to protect unborn life in future laws. Prop. 1 goes far beyond Roe. It is the most egregious expansion of abortion this country has ever seen.

Recent in-depth polling shows that a strong majority of California voters oppose late-term abortions, oppose turning California into an abortion sanctuary state, and oppose using tax dollars to pay for abortions. We can defeat Proposition 1, by organizing and raising the funds needed to tell voters about the dangers of this heartless amendment.

The California Catholic Conference of Bishops is part of a broad coalition of leaders and organizations who value life and who are willing to fight to protect it, named California Together, No on Proposition 1. This list continues to grow every day and we need you to be a part of it. We cannot allow California to become a "sanctuary state" where abortion is paid for by taxpayers, for any reason, at any time.

Please join those who value Life: Vote "No" on Proposition 1.

Also, Please continue to follow the articles in this current bulletin for the contributions from our four Faith In Action Program categories Directors: (1) FAITH Director - Brother Khai Phan, (2) FAMILY Director - Brother Guillermo Uribe, (3) COMMUNITY Director - Brother Frank DeSmidt, and (4) LIFE Director - Brother Vinh Nguyen. All programs that our council participates in are positioned in one of these categories for reporting purposes to Supreme.

Building the Domestic Church Theme for November is - The Communion of Saints

By virtue of baptism and the sacramental graces of marriage, the Christian family is built into a communion of saints. Holiness is a gift given to every baptized Christian that becomes a joyful task for the whole of life.

Scripture Reading — Psalm 98:1-6

A prayer to welcome God's rule over the earth.

Blessed be the LORD, my rock, who trains my hands for battle, my fingers for war;

Sing a new song to the LORD, for he has done marvelous deeds.

His right hand and holy arm have won the victory.

The LORD has made his victory known; has revealed his triumph in the sight of the nations,

He has remembered his mercy and faithfulness toward the house of Israel.

All the ends of the earth have seen the victory of our God.

Shout with joy to the LORD, all the earth; break into song; sing praise.

Sing praise to the LORD with the lyre, with the lyre and melodious song.

CULTURE OF LIFE NEWS

Reclaiming the Truth

It's frightening how little history we know. Comedian Jay

Leno would bring down the house with those crazy answers to the most basic questions asked to sidewalk interviewees. It would have been funnier if it weren't so true. Test scores show that American students are way behind the curve when it comes to civics and history. That's a danger to the future of our democracy. We repeat what we don't realize.

We all fall far short in knowing the history of the Catholic Church, and more specifically, its major contributions to Western civilization. In the sciences, the Church was the first to recognize that the universe operates based on fixed laws. Priests were the early physicists, astronomers, meteorologists, and inventors. The Church did the unheard of work of providing institutional care for widows, orphans, sick, and poor. Catholic theologians paved the way for modern economic thought. And equally impressive was the Church's institution of the university system. The medieval Church chartered more schools than any government. Through collegial yet vigorous debate, the Church provided a way to pursue objective truth. Today, Catholic colleges and universities are charged to do the same.

That pursuit of the truth can get way off track. Recently, St. Norbert College in Wisconsin hosted a dialogue on feminism between teacher-in-residence Bell Hooks and Gloria Steinem. A self-described "early feminist," Steinem is unabashedly pro-abortion. She believes that an essential, if not the essential, element of feminism is the right of reproductive control — including abortion. Steinem's views on abortion made her appearance controversial, though she generally kept them under the surface. Yet her brand of feminism has cut itself from the roots of the movement and falls far short of proclaiming truth of authentic feminism.

Feminism supports human rights for all people, not just women. Most people would probably guess that feminism began in the 1970s. Actually, the correct answer is much closer to the 1770s. In 1792, English author Mary Wollstonecraft published A Vindication of the Rights of Woman. Within 50 years, women including Lucretia Mott, Elizabeth Cady Stanton, Sarah Norton, Susan B. Anthony, and sisters Victoria Woodhull and Tennessee Claflin led the fight for women's rights. They had much to change. Women's rights to assemble and speak were virtually unrecognized. Women could not vote, own property or a bank account, sit on a jury, or testify on their own behalf. Spousal abuse went uncorrected.

As the early feminists fought these injustices, they linked their fight to the protection of mothers and the unborn. Wollstonecraft condemned those who "either destroy the embryo in the womb or cast it off when born." Norton slammed the professional "child murderers" and longed for the day when an "unmarried mother will not be despised" and "the right of the unborn to be born will not be denied or interfered with." In their newspaper, The Revolution, Stanton and Anthony refused to advertise for "foeticides and infanticides." Stanton, who viewed abortion as a form of infanticide, believed that its root cause lay in "the degradation of women." Anthony wrote that though women bore guilt for obtaining abortions, the far greater guilt fell on the men who drove them to such desperate straits. Stanton bucked Victorian society by showing off her pregnancy in public. Anthony, though never married, found her joy in building "a better state of things for mothers generally, so their unborn little ones could not be willed away from them." Starting in the 20th century, these early feminists passed the torch to Alice Paul. Through Paul's efforts, in 1920 women were granted the Constitutional right to vote. The author of the original equal-rights amendment, Paul called abortion "the ultimate exploitation of women."

What changed it all? The growing free-love sexual revolution of the '60s had its consequences. As both married and single women became pregnant, men left for greener pastures. "Love" wasn't so free after all. Women lost opportunities for freedom, education, career advancement, better pay, and new relationships — the very things available to the men who impregnated them. Women wanted the license to walk away, too. Men eager to change the abortion laws found in women willing allies. By 1973, the Supreme Court opened the floodgates. The feminists of the '70s viewed abortion as the great liberator and equalizer. People like Steinem believed that it would allow women to be free like men.

Yet it hasn't worked out that way, nor will it ever. Women, not men, get pregnant. Men still walk away. Opportunities are not available for all women; injustices still occur. But with availability of legal abortion, women have been misguided by '70s feminism into believing that their lot will improve by taking the lives of their own babies. Sadly, women have come to measure their identity as women by their right to kill. They become both oppressor and oppressed. They become oppressors because they treat their unborn babies as property, ironically, just how they were once treated. They become oppressed because post-abortive women must bear the shame and regret, sometimes lifelong, of knowing that they surrendered their birthright. God chose women, not men, to bear His gift of life. Feminism of the '70s would trade that calling for a chance to be as free as men unwilling to act as men. It's a devil's bargain.

Today's authentic feminism refuses to let women become mired in wrong thinking. It celebrates all women and the many things they can do — and do as well as men. As did those first feminists, it recognizes that "pregnancy is not a disease, but a beautiful office of nature," one given by God. Authentic feminism supports women by attacking the root causes of injustice and oppression, all the while knowing that unborn babies did not cause them. It seeks to create opportunities for women without requiring them to sell their souls. And it treats legal abortion for what it is: a 42-year failed experiment with women's lives.

Authentic feminism is reclaiming the truth. It's about life, not death.

Strong customer feedback drives K of C Insurance Program recognition for second consecutive year on the Forbes America's Best Insurance Companies List

Knights of Columbus has been named to the Forbes America's Best Insurance Companies 2023 List. The award is presented by Forbes and Statista Inc., the world's leading statistics portal and industry ranking provider. America's Best Insurance Companies 2023 were identified in an independent survey based on a vast sample of over 15,000 U.S. citizens with at least one insurance policy. Knights of Columbus ranked #26 on the Forbes list among life insurers which issue permanent life insurance.

"For the second consecutive year, Knights of Columbus Insurance is honored to be recognized by Forbes and Statista for the strength of our many permanent life insurance products that align with our customers' Catholic values," said Knights of Columbus CEO, Supreme Knight Patrick Kelly. "Faithful to the vision of our founder, Blessed Michael McGivney, Knights has been helping provide financial security to Catholic families for 140 years."

The survey considered customers' overall recommendations, their general satisfaction, and six sub-dimensions: financial advice, customer service, price/performance ratio, transparency, digital services, and damage/benefit ratio. A loyalty score was calculated based on a series of questions about the customer's likeliness to keep their insurance policy under different circumstances, and the total length of time that consumers have held policies with the same insurer. The awards list and survey details can currently be viewed on the Forbes website.
